

Sargent & Lundy L L C

Commercial and Industrial Energy Services

Sargent & Lundy's commercial and industrial energy services are available to help manage your company's energy costs and meet your specific sustainability goals through a variety of strategies, including power purchase agreements (PPAs) and onsite self-generation.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- Independent Energy Solutions & Advice
- Self-Generation Development & Design
- Power Quality Analysis & Solutions
- Energy Cost Reduction Strategies
- Combined Heat and Power
- Solar and Wind Power Development and Design
- Energy Storage and Microgrids
- Corporate PPA Contract Negotiations
- Physical PPAs vs. Virtual PPAs
- Cost Forecasts and Financial Analysis
- Renewable Plant Performance Forecasts
- Facility Energy Assessments
- Corporate Energy Monitoring
- Grid Interconnections
- Relaying and Protection

Sargent & Lundy provides independent technical and financial advice and services to a wide range of commercial and industrial firms. We can help you identify your energy goals, understand your energy usage, and control your energy costs using a variety of proven approaches. Our team will evaluate the full range of solutions available to your company, assessing risks and benefits and implementing a plan tailored to your specific objectives.

-  Control Energy Costs
-  Improve Power Quality and Reliability
-  Reduce Exposure to Volatility
-  Achieve Sustainability Targets

Contact: Matthew Thibodeau
Vice President
+1-312-269-7633
mthibodeau@sargentlundy.com

For 125 years, Sargent & Lundy has advised commercial and energy-intensive industrial clients on power generation, transmission and distribution, and project development and execution. With 2,500 employees, including 1,500 engineers; decades of experience supporting commercial and industrial firms; and thousands of successfully completed projects, we are well positioned to solve your specific challenges and problems.

Call or email us today to find out how we can help.